

"Friendship is a single soul dwelling in two bodies." Aristotle

It's the month to wear green and have some fun. If you capture that Leprechaun on March 17, be sure to ask for the pot of gold he guards! Friendship is featured on St. Patty's day (Irish = one big family), so give both your 2 and 4 legged friends a big hug and celebrate that famous Irish luck and cheer.

EVENTS AND MY NEWS FLASHES

"FUR SHUI™"

"Fur Shui"™ An Introduction to Animal Feng Shui.

Animal Communications and "Fur Shui" teamed up at Aum & Garden this past month. We "talked" with Maximus the poodle during our workshop. He has the special job of shop dog for Mulberry Row and watches over Aum & Garden as well! He was happy to participate and make the day special for all. Thanks Keith for hosting the workshop at Aum & Garden. Be sure to check out all the classes and special events at the store by calling them up at 818.788.3400, or drop by at 13363 Ventura Blvd., Sherman Oaks, CA. Cool shop!

Next "Fur Shui" event:

MARCH 7, SATURDAY at 10:40AM (PST) KGIL 1260/540am
LIVE RADIO INTERVIEW WITH HARRISON FORBES ON "PET TALK" RADIO!

On the air radio talk with Harrison Forbes and his program "Pet Talk". Will be talking about "Fur Shui", listen in, call in, and have some fun. "Pet Talk" is on every Saturday from 9AM - 11AM PST time. Check out Harrison's site: www.harrisonforbes.com

WHERE?

"Thar' she blows!" From whale watching to teaching workshops, it was a jam packed month! The Grey Whales are now seen off the San Diego coastline heading back to the Arctic Circle after giving birth to many babies down warm Baja. Had a great time watching them as they swam North. Lots of tiny baby whale flukes to OOO and AHHH at! The San Diego Zoo is also just beginning to have some cute new Spring babies...two new little Takins are now watching all who pass them by.

WHO, HOW AND WHAT?

Don't just sit there and let this pass by!

Paula Brown©

Since I am Irish (and this month who isn't?) I am wanting to give you some "green". This month only in honor of St Patrick and his banishing the snakes from my Grand Parents' Irish home, I am offering $10. off on my Animal Communication read. When you give me a call or an e-mail just mention the St. Patty's Day special. Reads must be completed before the end of the month...so do not tarry! Takes a few days to get on my schedule.

SAVE SOME GREEN THIS ST. PATTY'S DAY OFFER

$10. OFF

ONE ANIMAL COMMUNICATION FROM MARCH 1 - MARCH 31.

All reads to be complete by end of March...coupon offer does vanish (Just like those pots of gold at the end of the rainbow).

Legend states that St. Patrick brought the idea of the Christian "Trinity" to the Irish by showing them the three leafed clover or shamrock. This was to demonstrate the thought of "three divine persons living in one God". This opposed the Arian belief that existed in Ireland at the time of St. Patrick's around AD 400. Now the tradition is to see GREEN in all things! From the Green Evolution to turning the Chicago River an Emerald Green on March 17th. Enjoy, Go Green!

Warmer weather is coming...ID and Prevent Heat Stroke in dogs!

This last month's issue of "The Whole Dog Journal" had some neat tips on canine heat stroke. Without sweat glands, a dog gets it's temp. to cool down by panting. When the day or environment gets too hot, a dog just can not efficiently get its body to a comfort safety zone. Be sure to let your dog drink lots of water and stop for frequent hydration...exercise in the cool of the early AM and later dusk. Watch for these signs: 1. High temps (105 - 110degrees F) 2. Fast Pulse 3. Excessive panting 4. Deep red or blue tongue and gums 5. Distressed, agitated behavior 6. Loss of consciousness. How to help or treat canine heatstroke: 1. Move a dog to a cool, shady area 2. Wet a dog thoroughly with cool water to lower body temp. 3. Apply ice packs to head and between the thighs until temp. drops below 102 degrees 4. Give small amounts of water or crushed ice 5. If the dog does not respond within 10 minutes quickly seek vet attention.

Thanks Judy for the gift of "Whole Dog Journal"!

"Fur Shui" Tip for March: Green is the color of the Family / Community Gua. Time to treat your fur family with some good "greens". Give that pooch a "Greenie" treat, your cat some nice green kitty grass. You will make some family ties in a healthy way. Best to give them treats in the family life space or gua...use the Bagua as your map! Be sure to give some extra hugs in this space while telling them how you want them to enjoy, harmonize and fit into your family and friends.
