

"If something comes to life in others because of you, then you have made an approach to immortality" Norman Cousins, M.D.

The days are now growing shorter, happy Fall! Get those jack-o-lanterns carved and the cider on the stove. We are right between fall and winter, a time in history when Celts lit bonfires to ward off roaming ghosts during their holiday of Samhain. Today we gather, dress ourselves and some pets to raise a smile!

EVENTS AND MY NEWS FLASHES

"FUR SHUI®"

"Fur Shui"™ An Introduction to Animal Feng Shui.

AND THE WINNER OF THE "TOUR DE FUR" IS: Laura Cochrane! Congrats! Well, I never got the books returned...still trying. Did a final "draw from a hat" and Laura Cochrane's name popped out. She is the person of "Jeffrey the cat" and received the book from Pam Holt. Laura wins a full remote animal communication!

Thanks to all of you who passed Fur Shui along, had some fun, and learned all about the magic in your own home. Fur Shui is still traveling about...check its journey out at: <http://furshui.blogspot.com>

Fur Shui and I were consulted recently for the magazine "Ferret USA". I found out tons of things about "fuzzies" and hope folks have good times with new fur shui fun for their ferrets.

This has been a rip roaring fall so far. I have not been traveling much, but Fur Shui sure has. It recently went to the wild wild West in the Texas Hill Country and met up with "Pistol Paula"...no, NOT me, but really, there is a wonderful person named Pistol Paula, and she enjoyed packing the book along with showing her talents recently! A lovely deer also warmed up to the book during the visit to the old West town in Texas.

The book and I are going to be on hand during the grand opening of The Barkley Pet Hotel and Spa in Westlake Village, CA on Saturday, October 23, 2010 from 10AM to 5PM. Amazing space for your pet to be pampered in! <http://www.thebarkleypethotel.com>

AND, on Sunday, November 7, 2010, Dexter's Deli in Del Mar, CA Noon to 4PM, will host a free panel on Animal Communications. I will be a part of this charity event and share with 4 other "talkers" for the "FACE foundation". After

WHO, HOW AND WHAT?

Boo, it's Halloween!

Lots of animals have really taken up the "scary" brand due to Halloween. From spiders, vampire bats, wolves, to black cats, there are just so many false and sometimes damaging stories come this time of year. My one suggestion...keep your small pets (especially those loving black cats!) inside on Halloween and the days before and after, "man" can be the scariest creature of all with unthinking acts.

Here's some fun facts about wolves, spiders and bats from the petplace.com site that I wanted to share with you this "All Souls" season! For more info, go to <http://bit.ly/buLS7W>

"Wolf and Werewolf Facts

"Werewolves" in history may actually have been people suffering from rabies or psychosis. Also, people may have eaten hallucinogenic plants that made them see werewolves or even believe they had turned into a wolf. In fact, a common grain used in breads during the Middle Ages was later discovered to be hallucinogenic.

The wolf howls not to demons, but for more prosaic reasons: calling to reveal his location, calling the pack together or defining the group's territory.

Wolves are not pets, but they have been bred with dogs to produce wolf-dog hybrids as pets. Many organizations discourage the practice.

Spider Facts

Spiders are not always the lurking evil represented by Halloween. In England, seeing a spider in your house meant good luck. To kill it would bring bad luck.

If a spider loses a leg, it will often grow another one.

As predators, they consume vast numbers of insects and other arthropods, many of which are pests of crops, forests, urban structures, and man himself. There is ample data to show that spider communities can be effective in regulating pest populations

There are more than 35,000 species of spiders in the world.

Bat Facts

Vampire bats need about two tablespoons of blood each day. If they go two days without blood, they'll starve to death.

Vampire bats have chemicals in their saliva that prevent blood clotting, so they can feed longer.

Bats are not carriers of rabies. The chances of coming into contact with a rabid bat are very low. If they get the disease, they usually die from it.

Most states do not allow bats to be kept as pets. Responsible bat organizations, such as the Organization for Bat Conservation, strongly discourage taking wild bats as pets."
