

"No one has a right to consume happiness without producing it." Helen Keller

Happy New Year to all! Glad to see that the days are now getting longer indeed. It's almost time to celebrate again...Chinese New Year is coming, the new year of the Rabbit on February 3rd. Get yourself ready for a year a bit more "restful" than the year of the Tiger. Out with the old and in with the new!

EVENTS AND MY NEWS FLASHES

"FUR SHUI"

"Fur Shui"™ An Introduction to Animal Feng Shui.

The holidays were wonderful! Two folks celebrated holiday "wins" with Fur Shui. Caleb the service dog's mom received a free copy of the book and Dexter, Marianne's dog was gifted a chakra read for sending in holiday photos. Congrats! Check out the books latest "whereabouts" at: <http://furshui.blogspot.com>

NEXT FUR SHUI APPEARANCE:

Ring in the new year of the Rabbit with me at Dexter's Deli in Del Mar. Short "Fur Shui" talk on what this new year will look like, Q&A and prizes!!!!

Saturday, February 12
1:00pm - 2:00pm

Dexter's Deli
858.792.3707
1229 Camino Del Mar
Del Mar, CA
Come Celebrate, it's FREE!

<http://dextersdeli.com/events-services>

WHERE?

Hope all had a great holiday. Had a great day seeing the animals enjoy a nice cool but sunny day this past Christmas at the San Diego Zoo. Fun day of interacting with all sorts of critters and even ecosystems.

Christmas at the North Pole will never be the same. Two friends and I celebrate 12.25.10 was very cool!

Flamingos even enjoy reading Fur Shui. Being "pink", they naturally LOVE the book.

Between Christmas and New Year I found myself at Wyland's art gallery in Laguna Beach. The back porch is a great place to spot whales. The Grey Whales are now migrating, so be on the lookout if you are along the SoCal coast. When the whales surface, they look like huge barges floating off shore! Grey is the color of the helpful people / travel gua and these whales that can reach 52 feet in length, live 50-75 years travel 10,000 to 12,000 miles during their migration from the Arctic to Mexico. Travel is their specialty!

©Paula Brown

WHO, HOW AND WHAT?

The Chinese New Year of the Metal Rabbit is almost here.

On February 3, 2011, most of mainland China business comes to a halt and all begin the annual celebration for Chinese New Year. This celebration lasts for 15 days, ending with what the Chinese call the Lantern Festival. The entire Chinese populace are now getting prepared with cleaning out the old in house, business and "self" and creating space for the new energies or chi of the Rabbit to come into their lives. Special food, treats and family visits are being planned. Fireworks, dancing lions and dragons that collect lucky greenbacks in their mouths are being made ready. Celebrating new life, joy, energies for the new year in which "persuasion" will be the tactic rather than force and confrontation.

This past year of the Tiger was fast moving, full of change, a bit over the top with stress for many of us. The new Year of the Rabbit will give us all a bit of a rest from the activities of 2010. Now, we must all exercise a "go with the flow" acceptance, get some rest, catch our breathes, calm your nerves and just "let" things happen. The Rabbit is considered to be a lucky sign, private, a bit introverted. Major thing for this year is to have the goal to create a peaceful lifestyle, non rushed (contrary to the Tortoise and the Hare parable), a safe "spot" so one can calmly deal with issues that come to pass. This year is a time for negotiation...if you try to force anything, it just will NOT work...diplomacy is a must this new year! A time to build deep personal relationships and a happy and peaceful home. Good taste and refinement are on their way and will be appreciated! Gung Hay Fat Choy and all have a wonderful new year.

For all the "locals", come find out more on Saturday February 12, Dexter's Deli, Del Mar! Special attention to the Love gua will be given for Valentine's Day! <http://dextersdeli.com/events-services>

Go and listen to The My Buddy Butch Radio show!!!

Jeff (guy) and Butch (dog) have really been doing a great job at bringing tons of interesting folks, products, news, and great info to folks on their national radio show "My Buddy Butch Radio". I was a guest this past week...soon to be archived I am sure! Always something important, news worthy or just fun happening on the show. My good friend Dennis Fleck of SunnyDogInk.com speaks this week about her nice pocket series for animal understandings and emergency care. Check it out, tell Jeff "Paula sent you"! <http://mbradio.com/>

Flea tips!

Yes, it is winter (for most of us!), and now is the time to do some homework on how to control your pet's fleas as things "awaken" soon.

Dr. Andrew Jones (Canada) has some great info, all on natural means and tools to control fleas. For some reason, my cat Rocky just seems to have a natural "repellent" to the little bugs. I am still diligent in combing him completely after he goes outside. Could be ME that is the flea eradicator?! <http://www.theinternetpetvet.com>

©Paula Brown

Rocky is a holiday cat...after all he is "red"...he had such fun with the power of "red" this past year of the Tiger!

Thanks for reading...if you wish to not receive,e-mail me at: paula@furshui.com and ask to "unsubscribe"

All information to be used only (©) in this News Sheet, please contact Paula Brown @ paula@animalhearttalk.com with any requests.