WHERE?

It's butterfly time at the Wild Animal Park in San Diego. This is a short but "can not be missed" exhibit of lovely butterflies freely flying about happily all around those who enter into the "Butterfly Jungle". Kids love it, adults ooo and ahh at it and I totally enjoyed having them flutter by and land on my sleeves for a brief rest. If you are in the area the exhibit lasts until April 26, info at: <http://www.sandiegozoo.org>

Something important to know and have handy.

It is National Pet First Aid Awareness month. Denise Fleck of Sunny-Dog Ink has some good advice for keeping your fur folk safe: "With Spring on its way, get down on all fours to keep your pets safe! Make sure fertilizers, insecticides, cleaners, garbage and yard trimmings are out of reach as ingestion could prove fatal. Snail and Slug Bait pellets can cause seizures in dogs while Lilies can be fatal to our feline friends, and NO CHOCOLATE for any of your four-legged friends. Post phone numbers for the ASPCA's Poison Control Hotline (888) 426-4435 and your nearest Animal Emergency Center and learn what to do should your furry kids get into trouble." Denise Fleck, Sunny-Dog Ink

Denise has a marvelous FIRST AID KIT for animals and teaches animal safety and first aid. Her site is at: www.sunny-dogink.com I have the kit at home and it HAS IT ALL. I am so glad to have things right at my fingertips "just in case".
